

2016 Artemis Great Kindrochit Quadrathlon's will take place on Saturday 9th July. Become a sponsor and be a part of a very special event and an unforgettable weekend. The Quad, as we like to call it, is arguably one of Scotland's toughest one-day events. It is an exhilarating test of stamina, strength and fitness, combining swimming, walking/running, kayaking and cycling. It's not an event for the faint-hearted but promises to take the participants through some of the most magnificent and scenic areas of the Scottish Highlands. The challenge takes place in, over and around Loch Tay, including the summits of the Ben Lawers range and Tarmachan Ridge.

We have a range of sponsorship and promotional opportunities for companies who wish to use the event to promote their business to participants, their colleagues, families and friends. With many well-known corporates entering teams in 2015, the event is a great prospect for business networking. Registrations for 2016 are coming in quickly and we are hoping the event will reach its biggest field to date, 350 participants.

We hope you will be interested in supporting this year's event by gaining enhanced exposure through acting as a sub-sponsor of one of the items below. All major sub-sponsors will receive a big thank you and mention at our main prize giving speeches, at the start and at the finish as well as inclusion in the event programme and website. To discuss these promotional opportunities, please contact David Fox-Pitt at WildFox Events on 01567 820 409 or by email david@wildfoxevents.com.
